A Child of Books

by Oliver Jeffers & Sam Winston

A beautiful, poignant and timely manifesto for the myriad rewards of reading and sharing the enjoyment of stories.

From Oliver Jeffers and typographical fine artist, Sam Winston, comes an inspiring and lyrical picture book about a little girl who sails her raft 'across a sea of words' to arrive at the house of a small boy. There she invites him to come away with her on an adventure where they can journey through 'forests of fairy tales' and 'across mountains of make-believe'. Guided by his new friend, the boy unlocks his imagination and a lifetime of magic lies ahead of him... But who will be next? Oliver's elegant art is combined with Sam's astonishing typographical landscapes – beautifully shaped from excerpts of children's classics and lullabies – to create a celebration of all that books can do and all that books can become.

The Journey

by Francesca Sanna

I look up to the birds that seem to be following us. They are migrating just like us. And their journey, like ours, is very long, but they don't have to cross any borders.

With haunting echoes of current affairs this beautifully illustrated book explores the unimaginable decisions made as a family leave their home and everything they know to escape the turmoil and tragedy brought by war. This book will stay with you long after the last page is turned.

Archie Snufflekins Oliver Valentine Cupcake Tiberius Cat

by Katie Harnett

Archie, Cupcake, Oliver, Valentine... the cat who lives on Blossom Street is called something different by everyone, and loved by all. But there is one house on the street that he hasn't visited yet...

In this sweet story, Katie Harnett explores how one well loved cat can change a lonely woman's life and bring a small community together.

Bee & Me

by Alison Jay

Bee & Me is a wordless picture book that is both a story of friendship and an introduction to the ecology of the natural world.

We hear much about the plight of the bumble bee population and its implications for our planet's future. This beautiful picture book makes the story personal and brings a message of hope. A little girl befriends a bee, which takes her on a journey of discovery and to an action each child can take to aid in conservation. Alison Jay's original artwork brings the story gently to life, pointing up the sadness of a world without bees.

Return

by Aaron Becker

The eagerly-anticipated finale of Aaron Becker's wordless trilogy a spectacular, suspenseful and moving story that brings its adventurer home.

Failing to get the attention of her busy father, a lonely girl turns back to a fantastic world for friendship and adventure.

Snow White

by Matt Phelan

Award-winning graphic novelist Matt Phelan delivers a darkly stylized noir Snow White set against the backdrop of Depression-era Manhattan.

The scene: New York City, 1928. The dazzling lights cast shadows that grow ever darker as the glitzy prosperity of the Roaring Twenties screeches to a halt. Enter a cast of familiar characters: a young girl, Samantha White, returning after being sent away by her cruel stepmother, the Queen of the Follies, years earlier; her father, the King of Wall Street, who survives the stock market crash only to suffer a strange, sudden death; seven street urchins, brave protectors for a girl as pure as snow; and a mysterious stock ticker that holds the stepmother in its thrall, churning out ticker tape imprinted with the wicked words "Another... More Beautiful... KILL."

Peter in Peril

by Helen Bate

A story of hope and courage in World War II.

'It was a cold dark night when Dad buried a box in the garden...' Based on real experience, this vivid graphic novel takes the reader right into the life of a family forced to live in secret when their city is occupied by enemy forces. Narrated by six-year old Peter, it conveys the fears, uncertainties and bewilderment of a child who never thought he or his parents were in any way different from anyone else and abruptly find themselves ostracised, forced out of their home, and at the mercy of armed soldiers. How they avoid being taken away, contrive to stay together, struggle to preserve their own normality and family life, in a city being torn apart by warfare, makes engrossing reading.

Yong

by Janeen Brian

Set in 1857 and loosely based on true events, this is the story of thirteen-year-old Yong, his father and a small group of men from their village who journey from China to the goldfields in Ballarat. As with modern day 'boat people' these Chinese are desperate, exploited and vilified, and their journey treacherous. Their tax money is stolen and they are put ashore in South Australia, rather than the promised Victoria, and are forced to walk hundreds of kilometres to Ballarat. However, despite his family's desperate need for money, Yong does not want to be on this journey. To those around him, he appears to be an honourable son, but in his heart and soul, he is resentful and longs to defy his father and return home to care for his beloved grandmother. A story of family and honour and what drives people to leave their homeland in search of something better.

The Adventures of Alfie Onion

by Vivian French
illustrated by Marta Kissi

A stand-alone comic adventure for younger readers by sublime storyteller Vivian French, with pictures by Marta Kissi, a talented new illustrator and animator.

Alfie Onion has just set off on a great adventure ... but only to carry his brother's luggage. It's his elder brother, Magnifico Onion, who's destined to win their family a Happily Ever After. But when it turns out Magnifico isn't half the hero he's cracked up to be, it falls to Alfie to save the day - with a little help from his loyal dog, a talking horse and a couple of meddling magpies.

The Moonlight Dreamers

by Siobhan Curham

From the editorial consultant on Zoella's international bestseller Girl Online comes an unforgettable story of friendship, self-belief and love.

A inspirational, heart-warming book about four girls trying to find their place in the world. Amber craves excitement and adventure. Instead, she's being bullied at school for having two dads, and life at home isn't much better. Inspired by Oscar Wilde, Amber realises that among the millions of people in London, there must be others who feel the same as she does; other dreamers - moonlight dreamers. After chance encounters with Maali, Sky and Rose, Amber soon recruits the three girls to the Moonlight Dreamers. It's high time they started pursuing their dreams, and how better than with the support of friends?

Great Falls

by Steve Watkins

One brother home from war. The other desperate to save him. A gripping journey together to the river's end.

Shane has always worshiped his big brother, Jeremy. But three tours in Iraq and Afghanistan have taken their toll, and the easy-go-lucky brother Shane knew has been replaced by a surly drunk who carries his loaded 9mm everywhere and lives in the basement because he can't face life with his wife and two small children. When Jeremy shows up after Shane's football game and offers to take him to the family cabin overnight, Shane goes along. But as the camping trip turns into a days-long canoe trip down the Shenandoah and Potomac Rivers, Shane realises he's in way over his head – and has no idea how to persuade Jeremy to return home and get the help he needs before it's too late. In a novel at once gripping and heartbreaking, Steve Watkins offers a stark exploration of the unseen injuries left by war.

The Hired Girl

by Laura Amy Schlitz

Newbery Medalist Laura Amy Schlitz brings her delicious wit and keen eye to early twentieth-century America in a moving yet comedic tour de force.

Fourteen-year-old Joan Skraggs yearns for real life and true love. But what hope is there for adventure, beauty or art on a remote farm in Pennsylvania where the work never ends? Over the summer of 1911, Joan pours her heart out into her diary as she seeks a new, better life for herself – because maybe, just maybe, a hired girl cleaning and cooking for six dollars a week can become what a farm girl could only dream of – a woman with a future. Newbery Medalist Laura Amy Schlitz relates Joan's journey from the muck of the chicken coop to the comforts of a society household in Baltimore (Electricity! Carpet sweepers! Sending out the laundry!), taking readers on an exploration of feminism and housework; religion and literature; love and loyalty; cats, hats and bunions.
